Director praises loyal staff after major award win

GOOD and loyal staff were the keys to Dalby Engine Rebuilders claiming its first Business of the Year award at the Dalby Chamber of Commerce and Industry Business Excellence Awards.

"You can't do it without good staff and we have a lot of people who have been with us for many years," said the director of the long-established Dalby firm, Catherine Celledoni, at the awards presentation on Friday night.

Spare parts manager Geoff Bradly is one of those, having been at the firm for more than 30 years.

Dalby Engine Rebuilders, part of the Dalby community since 1958, picked up nine awards and distinctions at the 18th awards night.

Ms Celledoni said her firm had been part of the annual awards for the past five or six years and had previously won a number of gold and criteria awards.

Small Business of the Year winner was Eyecare Eyewear that has been operating in town since 2006. After picking up seven awards on the night, an overwhelmed, but happy, Tom Roger said the awards were very unexpected. "We try to be the best we can and make sure we have the right staff," Mr Roger said.

Best New Business of the Year was the Dalby branch of RCS Communication Solutions, a Mackay-based firm.
